Hair Brushes

The tonic effect of a daily hair brushing is well known.

The deadened, poorly circulated scalp is brought to new life, dandruff disappears, the hair follicles are stimulated, the hair takes on new growth and vigor.

This case is easily demonstrated by the use of a good Hair Brush.

NIGHT LETTER

Houston, Texas, May 1st, 1911.

ED. S. DERDEN, Agent,

Bryan, Texas.

Our April business exceeded eleven hundred and thirty-five thousand dollars. This probably establishes a new record for any Texas Company and reflects everlasting credit on you and every other representative of the company who was a contributing factor towards the accomplishment of this great achievement.

O. S. CARLTON, Vice-President,
Great Southern Life Ins. Co.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Bain and children have returned to Houston, after a visit to Mrs. M. J. Parker.

Mrs. L. Stephan and daughter, Miss Inez, and son, George, have returned from a visit to Aberdeen, Wash.

I repair and adjust all makes of sewing machines. T. A. Satterwhite, salesman and collector for Singer Sewing Machine Company, Phone 467.

Miss Annie Lewis, of Greenwood, Ark., is the guest of her uncle, J. V. Chemelsky, and aunt, Mrs. M. F. Vitopil.

The Singer sewing machine is sold for cash or small monthly payments. See T. A. Satterwhite, salesman, Phone 467.

For Sale—My residence, eight rooms with bath and toilet, near postoffice, without the lots on which it is located. Party purchasing must remove same as soon as practicable, as I wish to erect a new home. If you mean business see me. James O. Chance.

Friends and relatives in this city have received invitations to the marriage of Miss Gertrude Fink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fink, of Waco, to Mr. Frank Gribble on Wednesday, June 7, 1911, Austin avenue Methodist church, Waco. They will be at home at Rosebud, Texas, after June 15.

Any lady can easily make from $18 to $25 per week working for me quietly in her own home locality. This is a bona fide offer—one which will pay you to investigate, even if you can only spare two hours per day. No investment required. Turn your spare time into money. Write me at once for particulars. Address Mary B. Taylor, Box 39, Woman's Building, Joliet, Ill.

FLORIST.

Finest flowers for all occasions. Phone connection day and night. Alfred Holm, florist, Corsicana, Texas.

Going Too Far.

Along a country road walked a man and woman. The latter, a gaunt, stern faced female, was bullying the meek little fellow, who trudged just in front of her with downcast head. Suddenly the woman, turning, saw a bull racing down the road behind them. She quickly took refuge in the hedge, but her companion, unconscious of aught but his woes, kept on his way. The bull caught up to him and sent him spinning into a muddy ditch, then continued on its wild career. As the woe-begone figure crawled out of the mire he saw his better half coming toward him. Plucking up a little spirit, he whimpered, "M-M-Maria, if you hit me like that a-g-g-gain you'll really get my temper up, so I warn you."

More and More.

The gravedigger in "Hamlet" was a very witty man, wittier far than many of the epitaph makers who have adorned headstones with their jingles. A sample of the punning rhymes which are cut on tomb follows. It comes from the grave of William More, at Stepney, near London:

Here lies one More, and no more than he. The More and no more—how can that be? Why, one More and no more may lie here alone. But here lies one More, and that's more than one.

Curiosities of Etymology.

It is extraordinary how words for the same thing differ in even so small a country as England. Take "left handed," for example. In Gloucestershire such a person is described as "scrammy," in Staffordshire he becomes "craggy," the phrase for a left handed Yorkshireman is "gawkyrodder" or "calkie handed," and in the next county, Durham, he is "cuddy paw."—London Telegraph.

Experience Teaches.

"I wonder what has happened to Mr. Green," said Mrs. Brown to a lady friend. "He seems so dismal now, and he used to be a practical joker!"

"Ah," was the response, "he proposed as a joke to his present wife. She accepted him, and he says he will never indulge in a joke again."

A Prank of the Types.

A sentimental novelist, describing his heroine as one who "always kept modestly in the background," was horrified to find it recorded in print that she "always kept modesty in the background."

The Puzzle.

A Boston girl who was watching a farmer milk a cow adjusted her glasses and said, "It is all very plain except that I don't understand how you turn it off."

They Get It.

Neil—Men are such helpless things. Belle—Yes; they can't even fall in love without a good bit of assistance.—Philadelphia Record
